See you in Eureka,

I am excited about the Spring Conference coming up May 18 & 19th at the Holiday Inn at Six Flags in Eureka, MO. The theme is “Leap into Success”.

I always have fun at conferences whether it is listening to contest speeches or enjoying banter over meals. Conference Chairs Jacquie Vick and Jef Williams have been hard at work. So far we have the following planned:

- Six engaging workshops to choose from. More info is in the conference flyer in this newsletter.
- Our keynote Rebecca Bennett will inspire us Saturday morning
- We are excited to have Toastmaster International Director, Andy Little, DTM visiting
- Friday night will be a Mardi Gras theme with live jazz and a surprise scavenger hunt. Dress Festive!
- We have both the District Evaluation and International Speech Contest
- We will present club and member achievement awards
- We will recognize our 2011-2012 Toastmaster of the Year, Retired Toastmaster of the Year, and Division and Area Governor of the year.
- The bookstore will be open for the weekend. You can now use credit cards!
- We have the most important council meeting of the year. (President & VPEs don't forget proxies)
- The hospitality room is always a great place to hangout
- We have at least 5 and counting newly minted DTMs to recognize
- The Holiday Inn at Six Flags is a wonderful facility perfect for our needs
- We will elect and install our new officers for 2012-2013

That is a lot going on in a little over 24 hours!

Look for the conference registration form in this newsletter and see you in Eureka!

A Message From the LG&T

Welcome to the Spring Conference edition of the Communic~8! The theme for this conference is "Leap into Success", and I hope you'll join with me as I leap headfirst into making it a successful rest of the year! How does the district do this? By preparing ahead of time to make sure our leap is based on preparation, experience and anticipation. Let's look at these three things.

Preparation: Our leap into success at the district level comes from having prepared officers. This is accomplished through officer training. We just finished the second round of officer training and trained over 63% of all club officers. That's almost two-thirds of those of you who are responsible for the day-to-day operations of our clubs. This is an impressive figure but I would love to see it go higher. There were 28 clubs that had all 7 officers trained during the first round. I will wait until the spring conference to tell you how many of those clubs accomplished the same feat in the second round and will receive a new banner courtesy of the district. Congratulations go out to all officers who were trained and a big thank you to those of you who helped facilitate giving us strong, well-trained leaders. This will not only help us this year, but sets the stage for a distinguished district in the upcoming years.

Experience: Our leap into success is not just a blind jump off of a waiting ledge. It is planned, directed and may not be the first step toward success that many of us have made. Successful people are experienced people. We gain that experience by doing the things that teach and prepare us for success. In Toastmasters, that means giving speeches and achieving educational awards. Our District has already exceeded our TI goals for Leadership and Advanced Communication awards. We have achieved 98 of 160 CC awards. This means that as of this writing over 300 awards have gone to members of our district for achieving communication and leadership awards. Individuals achieving these awards are gaining the skills and getting experience that will position them as the leaders of tomorrow who can guide us as we make that leap into future success.

Anticipation: Every leap into the future is filled with anticipation. Our anticipation is for fulfilling and successful completion to this Toastmasters year. No one knows the future or can predict what will happen tomorrow, but by taking steps to be prepared and get experience, one can be prepared to handle any situation the future brings. The Toastmasters program does this. It teaches us skills that gain us the experience that prepares us for future situations. It's been said that success is when preparation meets opportunity. The preparation you get by completing the Toastmasters projects will help you take advantage of the opportunities that come your way and lead you to success. Success breeds success. With the background, preparation and experience you have, your anticipation of the future should be optimistic.

Speaking of the future, let's talk about future District Executive Committee (DEC) and Committee Chair positions. There are still several Area Governor and Committee Chair positions available for the 2012-2013 year. In addition, we will be creating two new positions, a Corporate Relations Officer and a Club Ambassador. Both of the positions can have a committee associated with them. If you are interested in these or any other positions, please contact me at scrogginscurtis@gmail.com.

Preparation, experience and anticipation. As we plan to "Leap into Success", let's make sure our preparation will gain us the experience that will help us fulfill the anticipation of a great year! ☀

A Message From the LGM

Lora Mather, DTM

What is a song without a melody? A melody is a succession of musical tones which is perceived as a single entity. This year the District 8 melody for me has been "starting new clubs". At the beginning of the Toastmaster year, I knew very little about how new clubs were formed. Several experienced Toastmasters taught me. That little tune of starting a new club played over and over in my head. It was like that jingle that stays with you all day, except this seemed to be with me in my every waking moment and sometimes in my sleep.

Realizing that my job was to motivate other Toastmasters to sing the song with me in their own unique way, I began to search for the 2011-2012 D8 New Club Orchestra. An orchestra is a sizable instrumental ensemble that contains sections of string, bass, woodwind, and percussion instruments. Each section adds to the melody creating harmony and accompaniment. Visualize our D8 New Club Orchestra as sections of instruments. Our woodwind section is our Toastmasters who find the corporations or organizations or groups of people who wanted a club. They make the initial call, discover the degree of interest and schedule the sample meeting. Our percussion section is our Toastmasters who keep the beat and rhythm by emailing and calling the corporate or organizational leaders every few weeks to encourage them to the next step. Since our string section moves the club from charter to distinguished, the string section is our club mentors. These Toastmasters carry the "to-be-members" TBM's through their first meetings, ice breakers and teach them the Toastmaster etiquette and club standards. Our brass section is our Toastmasters who support and encourage all of us about the many benefits and life-long learning.

Fifty-two (52) Toastmasters representing over twenty-seven (27) clubs shared their knowledge and skills with over 300 people who wanted to know more about Toastmasters. These Toastmasters are our orchestra for 2011-2012. The roles of these Toastmasters varied from serving as a functionary at the sample meeting to sponsoring the club to charter status to currently serving as the club mentor. Every one of them has played and is playing a key role in new club development. D8 has chartered five clubs; have five more clubs on the cusp of chartering and several new club leads on the horizon.

The following members belong to our current D8 New Club Orchestra:

Wayne Allen	Ray Allen	Gert Ballwin	John Barry	Carole Breckner	Sly Brooks
Lisa Carducci	Becka Clark	Taffy Cobb	Jeff Cook	Karen Cupp	James Dalton
Christina Dancy	Joan DeMeyer	Sharon Duke	Deborah Frey	Bob Gergen	Bob Hall
Deborah Hamilton	Clare Higgins	Debbie Hyde	Sandra Kardis	Mary Kerwin	Bradley Klein
William Levins	Bob Messmer	Cynthia Mill	Debra Morrissey	Ralph Morrissey	John Murphy
Joseph Passanise	Pat Patrico	Greg Phillips	Lydia Pochedly	Carrie Radnov	Jennifer Rose
Curtis Scroggins	Cynthia Scroggins	Julie Siess	Mike Slover	Lisa Sprouse	Casetta Stevens
Darlene Suter	Daryl Sutphen	Pat Tyrrell	Cynthia Warren	Leanne Waugh	Stuart Welter
Bridgette Wesley	Jody Willett	Peggy Willoughby	Frank Yates

Although there were no formal auditions for the D8 New Club Orchestra sections, it was a pleasure to talk with each member and listen to their Toastmaster experience and educational goals. Slots are available for you to join the D8 New Club Orchestra of 2011-2012. If you are interested in joining the D8 New Club Orchestra, give me a call. Conducting the D8 New Club Orchestra has been my most rewarding task within the Lt. Gov. Marketing's scope of work. ☀

Making a Difference through Public Relations Outreach

By Kat Mokriakow, Public Relations Officer

If you take a look around, you will notice Toastmasters are on the move! This is an exciting time to be a Toastmaster in District 8. Public relations events and educational sessions are being offered for everyone. In this article, I would like to share a few that has happened within the last month.

Craig Valentine Storytelling Workshop

On February 16th, over 50 Toastmasters and a few guests gathered in Clayton, MO to attend the Craig Valentine Storytelling Workshop. While in town for a function at the National Speakers Association (NSA), Craig, the 1999 World Champion of Public Speaking, took time for local Toastmasters in District 8 to share '10 Steps to Storytelling'. Audience members were on the edge of their seats while Craig masterfully commanded the stage with his wit and humor.

Craig Valentine & Jacquie Waddy-Jones

The audience also had the opportunity to see Jacquie Waddy-Jones take the stage and share a personal experience from her past. At the end of her story, Craig helped her to come up with a tag line she could use to enhance her story to make it more memorable. When the workshop ended, you could see the smiles on the faces of everyone attending. District 8 is thankful to Craig for making a difference for our members.

Take the Stairs Tour

On February 22nd, Rory Vaden—2001 World Champion Public Speaking 1st place runner up—held a charity event at Wells Fargo Advisors in downtown St. Louis. At this charity event Rory's guests were mainly youth from local schools and their parents. Making a difference in the lives of youth is Rory's mission. District 8 Toastmasters, in conjunction with Wells Fargo Advisors Club members, were on hand to help Rory make a difference while advertising Toastmasters to visitors of the event.

Working Women's Survival Show (WWSS)

Shopping, shopping and more shopping! On February 24th, 25th and 26th thousands of women and a handful of men converged at the St. Charles Convention Center in St. Charles, MO to shop, explore and have fun. Why is that important to Toastmasters you ask? If you were able to stop by booth 764, you would have seen Toastmasters in action! Over 35 Toastmasters in District 8 volunteered their time on the weekend to serve 3½ hours or more. Experienced and newer Toastmasters alike shared their personal stories with guests and offered them a chance to find out more about Toastmasters and then invited them to attend a club of their choosing. Over 450 brochures, flyers and Toastmaster magazines were passed out to guests during the experience.

From left to right: Curtis Scroggins, Jean Hildebrand, Nicole Tucker, Kat Mokriakow, and Anna Whelan

It was a very exciting time for me, I was at the event from open to close all three days. What I saw and heard over that weekend filled me with pride for our members and it gave me strong hope for the future of our district. From the moment I sent out emails requesting members to fill time slots until the closing of the show on Sunday, Toastmasters were ready to help out in any way they could. 'When do you need me and for how long?' were the responses I received. Members showed up smiling and ready to go. Comments like 'great idea' and 'thanks so much for doing this' were heard often throughout the weekend. Even a few of the guests expressed many thanks for providing this information so they can share this experience as well for themselves. 'I never heard of Toastmasters before, thanks so much for being here' said one guest on Saturday. We were there to make a difference and we did.

Toastmasters even benefitted from the event. 'At first I didn't know what to say when people walked up to the table, but I watched the others and began copying what they said and did,' shared a member who had never volunteered outside the club setting. 'It became easier to share the more I did it,' said another member. Serving at the booth was not the only time Toastmasters got to use their Toastmasters skills. Walkers took to the floor wearing their Toastmasters badges and while taking a personal interest in other vendors were able to direct anyone interested in hearing more to our booth 764. Their primary functions as walkers were to advertise while in motion.

On Friday and Saturday, members brought out their acting skills to perform a skit in front of an audience. At the Friday performance, members were in character from women of the past and women of current day while Toastmasters Ashley Payne from Voices in Unity, led the skit titled 'Women as Leaders'. At the Saturday performance, Toastmaster Arnita Jones from Primary Conversations led the skit titled 'Communicating in a Man's World', while members acted out the parts to understand the difference in communication between a man and a woman.

On both days, the skit members were exceptional in their performance receiving a standing ovation at the conclusion of the skit. You can view their performances for yourself on District 8's You Tube Video. After the show ended on Sunday evening, the Follow Up Team led by Nicole Tucker and Gail Vaucher of the SALT club took over and began making calls and sending emails to the guests who expressed further interest in attending a club. Recently, I received an email from a show guest thanking us for the follow up and she expressed her interest in attending a club as far away as Hillsboro, Illinois. The beauty of Toastmasters being offered at the Working Women's Survival Show is that it enhances the lives of women and offers them a glimpse into the opportunities provided by Toastmasters International in a safe place for them to explore their personal potential.

This year is a record year for District 8 with its public relations outreach with events being offered throughout the entire district. We are making the general public aware of the Toastmasters organization. As I write this article, I am already looking forward to the next event that will inspire members to be involved and to hear the words of a guest that says, 'wow, I never heard of Toastmasters before, thank you for being here.' Making a difference one person at a time! ☀

Credential / Proxy Certificate

District Council Meeting – 5/19/2012

At the district council business meeting, each club president and vice president education in attendance is entitled to one vote. However, if either or both officers cannot attend, they may designate, in writing, any other active member of their club to act as proxy or proxies for their club. (Use form below.) No other proxies are valid at this meeting – per Article X, Paragraph (d) of the District Administrative Bylaws.

In the event one of these officers does not attend the meeting and has not designated, in writing, an active member of the club to act as his or her proxy, the officer or proxy holder in attendance is deemed to hold the proxy of the other, and may therefore cast two votes at the meeting. This assures that every club is represented by two votes.

In addition, each district officer, including area governors, in attendance is entitled to one vote. Only district executive committee members carrying either credential or proxy certificates from their club are allowed three votes. All other members are limited to a maximum of two votes each.

Toastmasters Week Observed

St. Patrick's Day Float

District 8 Toastmasters has entered a float in the St. Patrick's Day parade in St. Louis. Construction of the float started on March 10th. The float features the new Toastmasters logo and helps us spread the word about Toastmasters. Volunteering their time in the initial construction effort were Tom Ahillen, Diana Ross, Allen Ross, Lora Mather, Jay Stevens, Kat Mokriakow, Tim Spezia, and Kevin Desrosiers.

In the next issue of the Communic~8 you will be able to see pictures of the completed float as it works its way down Market Street in downtown St. Louis during the parade. ☀
