Bio

Hello! My name is Alexandra & I've always held a passion for speaking. While most took fun electives, I took as many public speaking and theater classes possible. Words & the art of sentence structure is one of the oldest, and sometimes overlooked, skill sets. The power of verbiage, to reach an audience, to construct a point of view aiding in mind expansion – mysterious & fascinating. It is my honor to host the role of Area Director to assist in the growth of others, as well as myself. A toast, to the refinement of speech!
