

Stacy Offer, Jr. Bio

I joined Toastmasters to improve my stage presence, increase my speech impact, and to learn from experienced professionals in a constructive environment. I'm a dad of 3 amazing kids, an education and growth mindset advocate, & a spirited sports fan who has been a TM Central West End Club member since 2021, yet I'm far from the most experienced member. We are a growing club with a strong core of phenomenal members.

At the beginning of 2024, I was elected as club president, which has been a great experience so far. That experience piqued my interest in the Area Director role. I look forward to connecting with & learning from more members of the illustrious Toastmasters community & to helping extend its legacy.

Outside of TM & my personal life, I make a living by collaborating with companies to overcome blind spots & create new business performance levels through data-driven technology, professional services, and/or a holistic strategy. For me, solving problems that lead to the long-term success of others & connecting with people are the best parts of the business.

For schooling, I attended North Carolina State University for a BA in Psychology, LSU Shreveport for an MBA, & Missouri State University for a Master of Science in Information Technology. However, I continue to seek out opportunities to learn new skills formally, informally, and from those around me.
